

THE SORAYA SUMMER ARTS INSTITUTE

Generously supported by Music Man Foundation, US Bank, and Wilmington Trust.

ARTS INTEGRATION FOR ONLINE LEARNING AND BEYOND

Join us August 10, 11, and 12 for a special training on arts integration and best practices for online learning. This unique event will bring together renowned, world-class Soraya artists and educational experts in online instruction from CSUN's Center for Teaching and Learning to offer a new vision for student engagement and interdisciplinary learning. CTL will also offer training utilizing their award-winning immersive program SIMPACT!

This program will feature artists presenting on two curricular themes*:

Civil Rights and African American History

- Jason Moran: Jazz pianist, composer (film Selma), and educator
- Step Afrika!: Global ambassadors for the art of "stepping"

(Im)migration and California/US History

- Niv Ashkenazi and the Violins of Hope
- Susie Garcia and her all-female mariachi band Las Colibri

Each online session with artists will be in two parts:

- Soraya artists will share their unique perspectives and artistic talents on curricular topics
  - CSUN's Center for Teaching and Learning will offer strategies to maximize these artistic and educational sessions for application in the online environment
- Additional sessions will explore the social and emotional health of students during these unprecedented times with educational experts.

LOOKING TO THE FALL

- Attendees will have special priority to access FREE online live performances in the Soraya Student Matinee Series in Fall 2020
